

EVERYTHING NEW

UNPLOWEDGROUND

Everything is new in Castellón, Spain. New Church. New Friends. New Jobs.

VIVA ESPANA

NEW

WE FOUND A CHURCH

Our Spanish is finally good enough to attend a Spanish church and actually make friends! The church is called Vida Nueva ("New Life") and we look forward to learning more about church in Spain and helping this young church plant in any way we can.

NEW

WE STARTED SPANISH CLASSES

We have class 2-3x a week. Kelly also meets for conversation with 2 Spanish university students. The classes also give us the opportunity to meet many of the immigrant workers in town.

WE HAVE NEW FRIENDS

NEW

We've been learning so much in April's first 3 weeks of Masters classes. From the classes, yes, but even more from the students themselves. Of the 60 students, 25 countries are represented. It's truly an international group. Recently we invited the students (all 60!) to our apartment for a potluck. It was the first social event for the students outside of class that included everyone, and for some the first potluck of their lives! We had fun, and felt privileged to show hospitality to all of these people in our new home.

KELLY LIVES AT THE AIRPORT

NEW

Kelly flew to the Cote d'Azur, France this month to help a team from Christian Associates develop a website for their new church. The trip was a success, and next month he'll be doing the same thing in Amsterdam and Brussels, as well as receiving some training in Rotterdam.

PRAYER REQUESTS

- prayers as we are already looking for ways for April to use her degree to help create peaceful change in urban multicultural conflict situations.
- pray for Vida Nueva church and others in Spain who are working for spiritual growth in their country.
- pray for a safe and productive trip as Kelly works with churches in Northern Europe in early November.
